Mrs. Anjali Anand

Session Highlights

- The focus of the session was to make students think and analyze their key strengths, authentic academic performance and build exposure of various co-curricular activities to choose the nature of career they would like to go ahead with.
- This would enable the students to have a more pragmatic and comprehensive approach to career making ahead exploring themselves in a better way.
- The students were given a roadmap of 6 eminent questions to be answered before taking up full fledged preparation of their careers – What job role excites me? Do I possess any natural strength to make my biggest ace? What industry I would like to work in or be a part of? What skills do I need to learn for careers I am considering? How many years am I willing to study to start my career? What skills do I lack which I can learn?

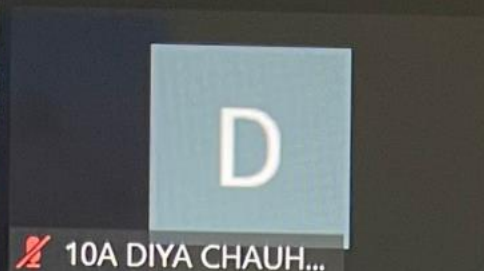

- Students were made aware of admission process to universities abroad, scope and nature of scholarships in universities in the country and outside, most popular and maximum lucrative careers post covid.
- Students were made aware about the 4 pillars of career and profile building namely – key strengths, location you start your career, exposure and networking. They were briefed about the various competitive exams required for university admissions with timelines. They were also given a detailed account admission process, nature the courses offered and structure of scholarships at Huron University, Canada.
